

POLLINATOR PATCH

This is a sustainable habitat where nature thrives! The plants growing here provide essential nectar, pollen, nesting sites, and shelter for bees, butterflies, and other pollinators. By embracing natural ecosystems, our garden supports a healthy diversity of plants, insects, and other wildlife that together improve ecological health and climate resilience for all of us.

Pollinators help us. Let's help them.

Let nature flourish in our community.