

HABITAT GARDEN

Our garden is more than just plants - it's a vibrant ecosystem supporting a variety of flora, fauna, fungi, and healthy soil too! We leave the fallen leaves and branches to nourish the soil and nurture native plants that provide pollen and nectar for insects and birds. These actions help create food, shelter, and a healthy habitat where local biodiversity can thrive.

What do you see? Share your observations of nature using iNaturalist:

